

Job Description

IRLI Programme Coordinator

Position: Programme Coordinator
Location: Dublin
Hours of work: Full time
Reports to: IRLI Executive Director

Irish Rule of Law International (IRLI) is a joint charity of The Law Society of Ireland and The Bar of Ireland as well as the Law Society of Northern Ireland and the Bar of Northern Ireland dedicated to promoting the rule of law in developing countries. IRLI is primarily a project-based organisation with a variety of projects in countries such as South Africa, Malawi, Tanzania and Kosovo which range in focus from human rights to commercial law, and in application from training of judiciary and lawyers to access to justice at a grassroots level and clinical legal education for law students. IRLI works to advance collective knowledge of the relationship between rule of law, democracy, sustained economic development and human rights.

The organisation works through a well-established network of legal professionals who engage on a pro-bono basis to support the organisation's programme portfolio, either in Ireland or through field visits and/or longer programme placements. As such public engagement, communication and continuous interaction with the Irish legal profession is key to the life of the organisation.

Position Summary:

Established in 2007, IRLI has progressively grown through the years expanding on both its working networks and programme portfolio, which focuses on various legal issues ranging from access to justice to institutional capacity building and legal education and etc. In addition, IRLI Board has recently approved a new Strategic Plan to support and manage this growth and to provide strategic direction to the future of the organisation. In this context, the organisation is looking to hire a dynamic person to support the technical and administrative management of its varied programme portfolio and to help the Executive Director in the overall administration of the organisation. Under the supervision of the Executive Director, the Programme Coordinator will also have responsibility on fundraising, communication and public engagement.

The Coordinator will provide on-going support to the organisation and management of IRLI programmes and activities, including by ensuring adequate administrative support, supporting the on-going monitoring of programme activities according to project proposals and budget and producing narrative and financial reports in line with donor requirements. He/she will also support the internal administration of IRLI ensuring that the organisation adheres to relevant policies and best practice in financial, charity and volunteer management. The Coordinator will provide on-going support to IRLI legal volunteers and pro-bono lawyers and will support the Executive Director in the continuous expansion of IRLI professional network. The Coordinator will contribute to the management and further development of the communication function of IRLI, including by establishing innovative means for information sharing to maintain a vibrant relationship with IRLI supporters and promote and raise awareness about the work of IRLI. S/he will also be in charge of organising and managing established fundraising events and will be pro-active in developing new fundraising channels for IRLI, including by engaging with individuals, corporates and Irish-based foundations.

The Programme Coordinator will work full time and will be based in IRLI's office in Dublin, with occasional travel to programme field locations. S/he will report to and work directly under the supervision of IRLI Executive Director. S/he will engage with IRLI Board of Directors when necessary.
